While dealing with COVID-19, the world learned many lessons. And it's important to learn the lessons to prepare ourselves for the next pandemic and also to prevent the possible pandemics. Lockdown made the skies clear and reduced the pollution to a drastic extent. This made us realize that whatever damage we are doing to the environment can be reversible. It made us focus more on sustainable development. Even though corona virus does not seem to be a biological weapon, the threat of bio-weapons is real. During this phase, many companies, especially IT companies allowed their employees to work from home. It reduced traffic and enabled people to spend more time with their families. Many people are now relying on the internet for many purposes like educating their children, availing telemedicine facilities etc. Now, many people are taking healthy food and avoiding junk food to boost immunity. COVID-19 pandemic came when the world was least prepared for it. This phase taught us to be better prepared for the future.
